Crosman has been making their 1077, which is a .177-caliber copy of Ruger's popular 10/22 semiauto rifle, for many years. It's a 12-shot repeater that features a large rapid-change magazine, an integral scope-mount rail and fine accuracy - all for a terrific price. You would think they had taken the design as far as possible.

The 1077 is an ideal rifle for kids (with adult supervision) and smaller adults.

The 12-shot rotary clip is easy to load.

For even greater accuracy, you can mount a scope on the 11mm dovetails.

The Crosman 1077 semi-automatic air rifle is CO2 pneumatic air gun. Unlike the spring gun that uses coiled spring as the powerplant, CO2 gun's power comes from compressed air in CO2 cartridge. When you shoot, the pressurized CO2 in the cylinder is released and it propels the pellet downrange inside the barrel.

My understanding is that the 1077 accepts 11mm dovetail scope mounts. On ebay I see mounts for 3/8" dovetail and 10mm weaver but no 11mm dovetail. The 3/8" dovetail mounts (3/8" equals 10mm) seem like they would fit. After all, it's just 1mm difference.
